

FIND RADIATION IN 258 LOCATIONS

Some 258 separate instances of radiation stemming from uranium mining have been found during a recent preliminary survey of the Cardiff-Bancroft area by the Atomic Energy Control Board.

The radiation, which Atomic Energy personnel and health authorities say can cause lung cancer, has been found in varying degrees of severity in six area locations.

According to the report four locations require prompt remedial action, while remedial measures are indicated in 143 instances with another 111 requiring further investigations.

The 258 instances of radiation represent approximately one-third of the 776 properties investigated during the six-week survey of the following general areas associated with past and present uranium mining operations: Madawaska Mines and vicinity, Bicroft area, Dyno Mines area, Belcroft, Cardiff Townsite, Bancroft Village (partially).

Hugh Spence, with the Atomic Energy Control Board in Ottawa, told the Progress Monday that it was believed the radiation came from waste rock left over from local uranium mining and used for fill and road-building.

Mr. Spence went on to say that in most instances where the survey detected radiation it was found that homes or other buildings had been erected on either filled land or abandoned mine land.

Prior to the reopening of Madawaska Mines about a year ago all area uranium mines had been closed for several years.

Also contacted by the Progress was Dr. Michael Fisher of Belleville, the Medical Officer of Health for Hastings and Prince Edward Counties, who said that while radiation could cause lung cancer 'there has been to the best of my knowledge absolutely no increase in the incidence of lung cancer in the area over the past few years'.

Dr. Fisher indicated he is watching the radiation investigation closely as well as the area's health statistics but foresees no immediate problems or cause for alarm. Radiation is caused by the emission of radon gas from waste rock, slag and tailings from uranium mining operations. Spence pointed out that we breathe radon gas everyday but that uranium mining can increase the acceptable amounts in the air to a dangerous level.

Death truck

A 20 year-old Lochlin man rode this pick-up truck through six guide rail posts and into a ditch to his death on Highway 519 early last Wednesday morning. According to police Uwe H. Feuerstein of R. R. 1 Minden was thrown to his instant death as the truck flipped upside down scant yards from his home. Feuerstein was returning home from visiting girl friend Ina Steadman at her nearby Gelert Gardens home and was northbound, west of Lochlin, when the truck went out of control on a curve. A 4-year veteran of the Canadian Navy, Mr. Feuerstein was employed at the Canadian Legion in Haliburton as a bartender. Coroner Dr. Harry Good has indicated that neither an inquest nor post mortem will be held. Investigation by Provincial Constable Jim Solway.

Helmet saves young cyclist

Police credit a safety helmet with saving the life of a 15 year-old Wilberforce boy who collided head-on with a car while riding his motorcycle.

Scott J. Barras is in serious condition in hospital in Peterborough with multiple compound fractures to his leg, a dislocated shoulder and broken ribs.

Barras was southbound on Buxton Road, a private cottage road near Wilberforce, last Saturday afternoon. As he turned around to see if his companion was following, he crested a knoll into the path of an oncoming car driven by Thomas Konopka, 37, of Thornhill. The impact tossed Barras over the car to the ground, the helmet saving his life, police say.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Bob Pearson.

MARATHON DRAW WINNERS

A Colbourne, Ontario woman, June Boreham, was the big winner last Saturday evening in the Minden Kinsmen Club's final Marathon Draw.

The eighth in a series of monthly draws, last weekend's draw saw $1,000 in prize money go to Mrs. Boreham with the runner-up prize of $100 won by Jennifer Porter of Downsview.

More than 100 persons were on hand for the evening of fun and dancing at Minden's Community Centre with music supplied by the Gartshore band.

Previous draws starting late last Fall saw one prize of $100 and two prizes of $50 each draw each month.

A passenger in the Pripp car, Robert Gow, 17, of Haliburton is in satisfactory condition with minor injuries. Two other passengers, Gene Osmond, 17, of Lindsay and Kenneth Wyllie, 15, of Haliburton escaped unscratched.

Police say the Pripp car is a total write-off and that Pripp is being charged with careless driving.

Secretary-Manager

'The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce'

This week's tip of the hat' surely must go to the Haliburton Kinsmen Club. Show Chairman Dick McLean and all the Kinsmen certainly deserve hearty congratulations for an excellent effort which resulted in a job extremely well done. We talked to pretty well all the participating merchants on Sunday evening and without exception they agreed that the show was extremely worthwhile and they wished to return next year possibly with more booth space. Since all booth space was sold out this and everyone is returning this will mean that the show will have to expand. The Kinsmen were anxiously looking toward the proposed new curling rink which could be conceivably added to the show space next year. An outside display area is also being discussed. One of the most gratifying things about this show was that not only was there extremely good attendance by residents and cottagers, but the displays provided by our merchants certainly made their trip worthwhile. With this kind of a start we can be sure of continued success.

The Kinsmen are also deeply involved with a community betterment project. Students began work this week on the improvement of the Harburn Natural Wells. This natural phenomenon apparently carved during the Ice Age by whirlpools has been long neglected as a possible tourist attraction for our area. We are well aware of our area's need for worthwhile tourist attractions and sincerely appreciate the Kinsmen getting this project off the ground and look forward to having this facility available to our tourists.

We have just been advised of the latest development on the 'You are now entering' signs. The Ministry is presently erecting signs saying, 'You are now entering Getaway Country' at the borders of the Central Ontario region. The only place this probably affects Haliburton is in the Dorset area. We were promised that the existing signs would remain in place as long as they remained serviceable. We were therefore contacted and asked if we wished these existing signs to be left in place and we confirmed that they should be. We certainly hope this will not create any confusion to the travelling public.

Well, as we said last week was back to school for everybody. Elaine and Jackie attended two days of training at Peterborough while the manager spent the week in London completing the second year of the Canadian Institute for Organization Management. The training in Peterborough now being complete the girls will be travelling about the countryside to view the facilities that are available to tourists as soon as possible.

The course in London involved problem solving and decision making, leadership theory, task design and motivating jobs, management by objectives, and group dynamics. Last year the course provided us with quite a number of new ideas on the structure of our organization and methods of doing things. Quite a number of these ideas were put into use and some of the problems occur in the implementation stage particularly with a small chamber, with limited staff and busy directors. This year's topics should help the implementation of some of last year's ideas. In other words, if we can put it all together we can create motivation which will make us all want to work even harder, and get even more enjoyment out of it. We can't expect overnight changes of course, but we certainly do feel that the chamber, and therefore the community as a whole, will benefit through our participation in this course.

We had planned the second of our breakfast seminars for this Wednesday, but had experienced considerable difficulty in obtaining an instructor at this time. In addition we also found that many businesses are having extreme difficulty in getting out even for a half day seminar at this time of year, and therefore have decided to discontinue these seminars until Fall. We are very gratified by the interest we have had in these seminars and look forward to giving you a full and beneficial program starting in September. Watch for the announcements on these as they become available.

Area gun thefts

KENNEDY SURPLUS

What first appeared to be a simple shoplifting in which three guns disappeared from Kennedy Surplus in Haliburton Village could turn out to be a cleverly contrived breakin.

The two shotguns and 30-30 rifle were first missed last Sunday, but with no signs of a breakin it was assumed that someone had managed to smuggle the three weapons out of the store right under the eyes of Harold Kennedy and his son Pat the day before.

But early this week the discovery of an unlatched window with some shells lying on the ground outside has raised the possibility that cool-cat thieves slipped the latch during store hours, then came back at night to slip in undetected and make off with the guns.

Value of the missing guns is almost $490. Investigation by Provincial Constable Al Rollins.

CANADIAN TIRE

Police are seeking thieves who stole guns, including a number of 303 rifles, plus tape decks and stereo sets valued at well over $1,000 from Fenelon Fall's Canadian Tire Store early last Thursday morning.

According to store owner John Brown not only was the store checked about 1.30 that morning but he and his staff worked late the previous evening until about 11.30 p.m.

The breakin and theft was discovered on opening the store Thursday morning.

The survey is being carried out under the auspices of the Federal-Provincial Task Force on Radioactivity which was born out of the radioactive waste scare in the Port Hope area, last summer. Federal and Provincial ministries of Health, Environment and Natural Resources in many of Canada's provinces as well as the Department of Defence are participating in the task force.

The simplest way to insure that radon gas levels are kept at a minimum in buildings is to open more windows to provide better ventilation. During seasons when windows cannot be left open an interim ventilation system should be installed, Spence said.

Should the general public have any questions they can contact the Atomic Energy Control Board office in Bancroft at (613) 332-3229. It is located in the Bancroft I.G.A. plaza.

Female firefighter helps douse blaze

Believed to be Haliburton County's first female firefighter of the current year, Lois Legg of Wilberforce is also its first firefighter casualty (female) with a badly sprained ankle from battling a blaze.

It all happened the day the total fire ban was imposed on the county recently, a day off that Lois and husband Don had taken from their Legge's Place at Wilberforce.

Relaxing at their cottage, they were returning from a brief shopping junket at a marina on Little Straggle Lake in Harcourt Park when they spotted a bush fire. Joining four young men, one with a broken leg, already on the scene, the Legges battled the fire with an improvised bucket brigade and held it at bay until Wilberforce firemen and Ministry of Natural Resources workers reached the scene with special packs and water-dropping planes.

Although the cottage of Fritz Sparkey where the fire is believed to have started was destroyed, the six amateur firefighters kept the blaze confined to an area of less than two acres and saved another cottage nearby by crawling under it and beating out sparks and smouldering embers.

Mrs. Legg's injury occured when she lost her balance and fell down an embankment while a part of the impromptu bucket brigade. Fighting the fire with the Legges were local cottagers Kent Knox, Craig Howlitt, Eric Leadbeater and Rick Bloye.

SUPER SUCCESS......HALIBURTON HOME SHOW...

Photos by Cliff Burke

Haliburton's first annual Home Show proved a huge success last weekend as some 5,000 persons showed up for the two day event. Proceeds from the show, organized by the Haliburton Kinsman Club, will go towards the Club's many community projects. Kinsman Dick McLean explained that some $50,000 to $75,000 worth of merchandise was sold during the show which sported over $250,000 worth of goods on display. Winner of the $1,000 50-50 draw was Ken Langdon of Haliburton. The sports jackets donated by McGuire Tire were won by Norma Barnum of Haliburton. Jerry Woods of Haliburton won the wooden punt raffled by the Haliburton Boy Scouts. Newbatt Furniture's donation of swag shower curtains was won by Juanita Sisson of West Guilford while a free night at Pinestone Inn, donated by Larue Motors, was won by Haliburton's Bill Emmerson. Emmerson Lumber's donation of 10 cartons of Z-Brick was won by Mrs. B. Watts of Markham while Sharon Weatherbee of R. R. 1 Minden won the rolls of vinyl wallpaper. The deep fryer donated by Stedmans of Haliburton was won by Dale Robinson of Haliburton. Adding to the weekend's success was a dance held in the community centre which drew over 200 persons. Organizers say reservations are already pouring in for next year's show.

A dog's breakfast

The recent report of the royal commission on violence in the communications industrv is both sad and frightening.

In a nutshell the commission recommended steps that would erode hard-won freedoms and rights, would stifle and hobble private enterprise virtually destroying privately-owned television networks amongst other things and would further ensure that the largest per capita civil service in the world would get even bigger.

Topping this dog's breakfast would be an omnipotent czar of Canadian television, another one for radio and so on. It is sad to see intelligent and well-informed persons go so badly astray; it is frightening to see how little regard persons who should know better have for freedoms and rights bought dearly over many centuries.

Never mind though, that late propogandist, Dr. Joseph Goebbels would love the report. After all, he was a communications czar once, too.

Old Bone-in-the-nose

The latest report from Uganda quotes Ungandans as saying 'we are still trying to find our president'.

They refer, of course, to old bone-in-the-nose Idi Amin who is currently hiding out from assassins. This from the president of virtually any other country in the world would seem rather melodramatic. Not Idi Amin who has succeeded admirably in turning the life of Ugandans and some others into one, long wave of nauseous terror. With his victims running into the hundreds of thousands, including innocent little old ladies and Anglican prelates, with the rest of the world shocked at his depravities, snubbing him like few other national leaders have ever been snubbed it's no wonder he's in hiding.

Wouldn't it be nice if he'd stay in hiding.

Report from Parliament

by

William Scott M.P.

On June 12th the new federal Electoral Boundaries Readjustment Act came into effect, and this will bring about some drastic changes in the membership of the House of Commons, in the boundaries of most of the federal ridings across the country, and in the number of members that the provinces will send to Parliament. The Canadian Constitution provides for a national census, taking every ten years, after which the representation in the House of Commons is reviewed by the federal Electoral Boundaries Commission. The review is undertaken on the basis of population changes (increases or decreases) in the provinces, and also on a riding by riding basis. The new redistribution was approved on June 30th, 1976, and was to become effective on June 12th of this year. However, if the House of Commons had been dissolved on or before June 11th, preparatory to the calling of a federal general election, then the election would be fought on the old riding distribution, 264 in number.

In the next federal election, there will be 282 seats to be contested in the House of Commons, an increase of 18 over the present number. The old riding boundaries had to be greatly altered to allow for the addition of the 18 new ridings, and some of the old ridings disappeared completely. Ontario has been given seven more seats in the House of Commons, and we will have 95 seats after the next federal general election. Ontario had had a greater population increase in the decade prior to the 1971 census than any other province. An early decision of the Electoral Boundaries Commission resulted in the elimination of the riding of Victoria-Haliburton. The riding was split up, and the resulting parcels were divided among the surrounding ridings. I appealed this ruling, and a subsequent ruling of the Commission left Victoria-Haliburton riding virtually intact. My appeal was based largely on the similarity of interests and the sharing of services among the communities that made up the old riding of Victoria-Haliburton. I pointed out, for instance, the shared life style and traditions which have linked these counties over the years. Another factor was the provisional county status of Haliburton with its shared dependency on Victoria County for some agencies and services.

As in the past, the new riding will be made up largely of the two traditional counties of Victoria and Haliburton. We lose, however, six townships in Hastings County which become part of the new riding of Frontenac-Hastings. These municipalities are: Bangor, Wicklow, McClure, Herschel, Montegale and Carlow. To the west we lose the townships of Rama and Mara as they become part of the riding of Simcoe North.

The other major change is the addition of Georgina Township, located to the west of the Municipality of Brock. As Georgina has a population of over 15,000, it offsets in numbers the population of those municipalities lost to other ridings. Thus, Victoria-Haliburton has a net gain in population which under the new boundaries totals close to 69,000 people.

Over the years I have enjoyed my association with those areas which have now been taken for new ridings and I am sorry to lose them from Victoria and Haliburton. I want to assure residents in those areas, however, that I will continue to represent them until the next election and will be pleased to be of service in any way that I can. In recent months I have had the pleasure of meeting numerous individuals throughout Georgina Township and I look forward to serving residents of this area and assisting with any federal problems which they may encounter. As always residents are invited to contact me at Room 534, Confederation Building, House of Commons, Ottawa, if I can be of service.

OTTAWA and Small Business

A few years ago, a noted American doctor-cum-writer named Lewis Thomas was asked to comment on the state of his country's medical care. "These are bad times for reason, all around," Mr. Thomas replied wearily. "Suddenly, all the major ills are being coped with by acupuncture. If not acupuncture, it is apricot pits." Apricot pits are the basis for laetril, a cancer "cure" held in low esteem by medical authorities.

Which brings us to the illness that has befallen the Canadian Confederation. Like the man said, these are bad times for reason. The federal government, facing sickness within the body politic, has taken to treating this unhappy situation with the political equivalents of acupuncture and apricot pits.

Witness the current ballyhoo surrounding "Canada Day" and "Canada Week" (our old friend, Dominion Day, all gussied up for a new generation). Throughout Canada Week, but particularly on Canada Day, July 1, there will be federally-encouraged celebrations throughout the nation. Famous Canadians will be whisked back to their hometowns at government expense to lead local festivities. There will be parades, concerts, dog races, and canoe trips. Then, on the evening of July 1, the CBC will spend more than $1 million to show us Canadian entertainers doing Canadian things in Canadian regions.

The government hopes business will get involved in this distinctly unspontaneous celebration. If the government has its way, Canadians will be wearing "Canada, I Want to Shake Your Hand" T-shirts while eating Canadian birthday cake while listening to the sappy Canadian Day theme song which is expected to dominate our national airwaves.

The Canadian Federation of Independent Business was on hand when the government announced the program. The organization is still marvelling at the shallow thinking behind the proposals. Though the Federation and the government are in agreement on the importance of Confederation and the need to develop strong emotional ties that will bind the country together, there is considerable disagreement over methods.

The Federation believes that the federal government's national party ignores the root causes of Quebec's independence movement. Quebec's unrest stems from economic problems; the province wants to control its own destiny and to provide better job opportunities for its francophone majority.

The problems facing Quebec, however, are the same problems facing other Canadian regions; only the language of Quebec obscures the similarities. Every region of this nation needs greater self-sufficiency and more local enterprise. The government can't simply gloss over this issue with candies, balloons, and flag waving.

Canadian nationalism will arise naturally as Canadians come to grips with the basic economic threat to our survival. Nationalism isn't something that can be sold, like pork and beans, with showmanship and fluffy commercials. Strong leadership does not come out of ad agencies.

Another missed opportunity?

Are missed opportunities to be the crumpled foundation blocks of Canada's history of the north? Will that large expanse of the far north that makes Canadian children proud to learn their country is one of the largest in the world continue to be a vast nothingness.

Our neighbors in the Arctic are active in tackling the problems of the environment and its people. It's sad to admit that the Russians and the Alaskans have comparatively viable Arctic economics and societies.

And here we are in Canada heading in the direction of again sweeping into a back corner the future of our share of Arctic territories.

I have not yet read the detailed Berger report. The newspaper digests indicate that this report is sensitive and warm toward man and animals -- a sincere compliment to its author's empathy toward the people he met. It is the report's single recommendation that a proposed pipeline project be shelved for 10 years that stirs my feelings of sadness.

There are times when not doing something, when inaction is appropriate. But not doing something of major economic significance in the far north these days is a major error for the people of that part of Canada and the rest of the nation.

If such an attitude prevails, the terrible sordid and economic results of continuing neglect will prevail because it becomes excuseable not to do many other things.

Why bother about a native lands settlement? What's the hurry? Where's the pressure? What good is a 3 per cent royalty of nothing? I understand one of the proposals for a settlement is that negotiating native groups receive a 3 per cent royalty of any oil and gas production. That's probably an acceptable idea. But how can any oil and gas be produced if there is a 10-year moratorium on a necessary pipeline? Why bother looking?

Someone suggests building a rail line. Also a good idea. I suspect the economics and hazards of moving oil and natural gas by rail are considerably worse than by a pipeline. And, there is the consideration of disruption of nature and the lifestyles of people, which seem to loom so large in the conclusion of the Berger report.

Surely construction and operation of a surface rail line will be more disruptive of the environment than a pipeline buried in the ground. As for social conflict, construction crews on rail projects are known to be as rough and tough as any pipeline crew.

If such problems can be solved for a rail line, they can be easier solved for a pipeline. Construction camp anarchy and social problems between the newcomers and the residents as reported to have occurred in Alaska can be handled in a typically Canadian way. Call out the Mounties; or maybe the Army -- whatever strict policing and control is necessary to prevent social upset and still get the job done.

We've done it before in the Klondike and elsewhere.

Problems of the environment, whatever they may be, should also be considered as something to solve -- not to push aside for a decade. No one, least of all pipeline builders, want to garbage up Canada. Tell us how to prevent damage while building a northern economy.

Alaskan native peoples and others in that U.S. state take a different attitude. A friend recently visiting from Alaska reports considerable glee in that state in the expectation that a natural gas pipeline will be built across Alaska. Opposition to a Canadian line has been strong.

Alaska, with the support of powerful native associations, won the oil pipeline from Canada. It is not generally known that an oil line up the MacKenzie Valley from the Arctic coast was found much more attractive financially than one across Alaska. But the Canadian government was so fearful of opposition (the kind now seen on the proposed gas line) that the idea was buried in continuing delays in reaching a treaty agreement with the U.S. assuring no interruptions in the flow of oil. The proposed line would have had room for some Canadian oil, if such oil were found in the far north.

Oil was a missed opportunity -- and now a second somewhat similar opportunity may be missed. In danger of losing the most is the far north as it would again slide into a limbo of inactivity.

Pending gun legislation could disarm police

Bill Jones, president of Firearms and Responsible Ownership, Inc. (FARO), says that the new firearms legislation, now before Parliament as Bill C-51, will strike a most fatal blow at the 3 million legitimate firearms-owners and their families in Canada. Fresh from the wake of Bill C-83, which died with the last session of Parliament, Jones says that the new legislation is merely Bill C-83 with a new suit of clothes, and contains the same awesome powers. He is urging all firearms-enthusiasts to strenuously oppose this gun bill for the same reasons they opposed the previous one.

Of particular concern, says Jones, is a provision in the bill which gives the Federal Government the power to systematically disarm any given class of police officers in Canada. Under Section 90 (1) (b) of the new bill, this can be accomplished by Order-in-Council, which is a method of enacting law that circumvents Parliament.

Since a police officer carries a sidearm for the protection of the public and himself, Jones says that Canadians should wonder why the Government wants the power to take it away from him. He adds that FARO has obtained a legal verification from a prominent Toronto law firm, and feels that the public is totally unaware of the bill's possibilities.

Jones believes that the public has been given a false impression of Bill C-51, and is annoyed at the speed with which the Government is ramrodding it through Parliament -- in order to avoid analysis or discussion, and to prevent a build-up of opposition. He states that Bill C-51, like its predecessor, contains all the avenues and legal devices necessary for the discouragement and eventual elimination of civilian firearms-ownership in Canada, and wonders at the Liberal Government's strange and continuing preoccupation with firearms. He adds that, since there are about 10 million firearms in Canada which are used by 3 million people and their families, the comparative number of related incidents proves that there is no such thing as a 'gun problem'.

Mr. Jones is encouraging all firearms-owners, policemen, and interested citizens to contact their Members of Parliament and vigorously oppose Bill C-51.

Canadians own more and more of their banks' shares

Canadians now own more than 90 per cent of the outstanding shares of the Canadian chartered banks, the Canadian Bankers' Association (CBA) says.

Latest figures show that there are 181,128 shareholders of the banks resident in Canada and owning 90.5 per cent of the outstanding shares. They represent 95 per cent of all shareholders.

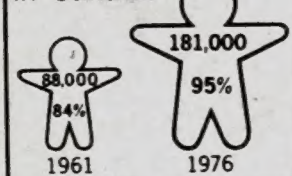

Other shareholders are located primarily in other countries of the British Commonwealth and the United States.

The number of Canadian shareholders has more than doubled in 15 years, and the proportion of shares owned in Canada has risen from 76 per cent during the same period.

The CBA says, however, that even these figures do not reveal the full extent of the public's participation in bank ownership since a large number have an interest in pension funds, trusts, estates, mutual funds, com-

7 injured in crash

A head-on collision in the Long Beach area, north-east of Cameron, has sent seven persons to hospital, two of them in critical condition. In the Intensive Care Unit of Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay with multiple injuries are May Ann Voicey, 44, formerly of Minden, now of Cameron and Robert Cowie, 23, of Lindsay, drivers of the vehicles.

Although hospital authorities refused to give details of the injuries, they indicated that Mrs. Voicey's condition had improved slightly, but, that Mr. Cowie was fighting for his life.

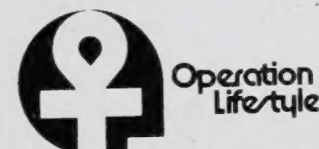

The two vehicles collided on the crest of a hill on Concession Road 7, Fenelon Township, about 6 p.m. last Friday.

Also injured in the accident were six passengers in the Voicey vehicle. In Lindsay hospital with major injuries are 8 year-old Paul Edward Voicey, 13 year-old Douglas Voicey, 15 year-old Donald Voicey and 17 year-old Barbara Ann Voicey all of Cameron. Suffering minor injuries were Michael Carrie McGill, 11, of Cameron, and 20 year-old Ellen Hazel Voicey of Lindsay.

Police termed the 1966 Voicey vehicle a write-off while Cowie's 1975 Mustang sustained some $2,500 damage.

Cowie is to be charged with failing to share half of the roadway, police said. Investigation by Provincial Constable Grant Peters of the O.P.P.'s Lindsay Detachment.

Hall's Lake News

Doreen Stinson

A good downpour of rain was most welcome, even on a Saturday when so many cottagers were hoping for sunshine and warmth. However, there was not much grumbling as most people were glad to see the moisture and everything looks nice and green around this area.

A good congregation at Zion United this Sunday morning with the Rev. Douglas Miller preaching a fine sermon on a part of the Creed and taking the Communion Service. At St. Stephen's 3:00 p.m. service the guest Celebrant and preacher was Father Mark Gudwin, Assistant Curate of St. Jude's Wexford in Scarborough.

Sorry to learn our Summer neighbour Mr. Walter Izzard of Toronto has not been too well lately, and that Mr. Edwin Hewitt of Hyland Crest is a bit under the weather. Hope they both feel better again soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton of Peterborough, and Mrs. Hughes of Toronto were visitors at St. Stephen's Church this Sunday.

Mrs. Marjorie Watson is away visiting her sister in Orangeville for a few days. Mrs. Thorne of Maple Lake is keeping house and taking care of Mr. Roy Anderson who is not too well these days.

Spent a nice evening with Mr. and Mrs. Earle Langdon this past week and was intrigued by the quaint old log home which they have improved and with a modern attractive family room at the rear, lovely grounds and garden, makes them such a comfortable home place. The interior walls of the original log house have been left in their natural state and beautiful old pieces of furniture, and-made reproductions and lamps to suit the era of log cabins, all tend to give an atmosphere of early pioneer days, and a quiet sort of serenity.

Father's Day on Sunday brought a lot of families out to enjoy a meal away from home, giving Mother a rest from cooking chores as well. All the restaurants seemed to be kept busy around the lunch and supper hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Rock are visiting their daughters in Toronto for a short while.

Mr. Gill Villeneuve was up at his cottage over the weekend—a lonely man these days, having lost his devoted wife, Dorothy, some months ago. Many folks on the Hawk Lake Road and here at the Lake will remember them with wonder at their big and open hearts, having raised five adopted children.

Mr. Albert Hart is away again visiting his daughter in Etobicoke. We shall all miss him this Monday evening when the Auxilliary meets at Hyland Crest for their Annual Pot-luck supper and then on to the Archie Stouffer School for 'Music Night '77' which he would have enjoyed. We hear the tickets are being picked up fast so there should be a good turnout.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Neil had an informal evening on Saturday with visitors from California as special guests. Beautiful colored slides of John's trips to Africa, Hawaii, Ethiopia and many other places, including Californian pictures were shown and a delightful buffet followed. The new addition to their cottage lends itself to hospitality and already they have it attractively furnished.

Mrs. Hilda Davis has been spending a week or so at the cottage high on the cliff overlooking this beautiful lake. She has been spending a little time each evening visiting with Mrs. Mabel Sawyer who doesn't get out and about too much these days and is glad of friends dropping by to chat and have a cup of tea. Too little of this neighbourliness is done these days and sometimes we should stop and think and do something about these folks we know are not too well, living alone, and no transportation to get them out of the house once in a while!

Good to hear of Stephen Clarke who has been working hard to become a lawyer, now travelling in Europe and when he returns will be trying his Bar exams. Stephen is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clarke who own a cottage here on the Hawk Lake Road.

The Gartshores and Miss Johnson attended a wedding of a grand-niece in London on the weekend.

Everyone is still remarking on a lovely bell tower on St. Stephen's Church which Bill Gartshore designed and made and which several men helped to put into place. With a new promised coat of white paint around the trim and windows and the grounds spruced up the lovely Place of Worship will

Kinette Korner

The last General Meeting for this 1976-77 year was held on June 14th at Kinette Linda McKnight's as a coffee and dessert meeting, with 3 Kinettes absent. The 1977-78 year begins on the second Tuesday of September.

It was the meeting to finally find who your secret pal was that remembered you during special occasions throughout the year. The cards were hand made with a poem composed by some very talented Kinettes and a final small remembrance.

President Noreen enlightened the club as to the activities at District 8 Convention held at Orillia this year and attended by Kinette President Noreen and Kin Denny Farnsworth; Kinsman President Don and Kinette President elect Diane Booth; Kinsman President elect Tom and Kinette Marg Prentice and Deputy Governor of Zone C Don and Kinette Opal Crowe.

National Convention is in Toronto this year and to be attended by two Kin families - so far.

CONGRATULATIONS to the Kinsman for their hard work and time and contribution of a Ball Park and lights to the village of Minden.

look well cared for and a visible welcome to local people and Summer visitors alike.

Another lovely rain and now the sun is coming out! Should be a help to the many gardens and lawns, and it certainly lays the dust. The grass along the roadway is becoming quite long so no doubt the Highway men will be on duty in that regard during the week?

the New K-40 Kinsman Club Chartered on Monday, June 6th at Hospitality Inn by the Kinsman Club of Minden.

We are sorry to loose two Kin families because of relocation - Bev & George Pettes and Denny and Noreen Farnsworth who will be joining Oshawa and Picton.

June 19th to 25th is Senior Citizen Week. Kinettes will be assisting with the Senior Citizen Dinner on June 21st, and a Tete-a-Tete complete with umbrella has been given to Hyland Crest Senior Citizen Home for their enjoyment.

Donations for the year were as follows:

CNIB	$25.00
International Relations	12.00
Kinsman Disaster Fund	5.00
Boy Scouts	50.00
Guild of Fine Arts	25.00
Cystic Fibrosis	300.00

Also in process is the purchasing of a 100 cup coffee pot and serving spoons for the Minden Community Centre.

The Kinette Club of Minden wish to express their appreciation to the community of Minden for their support and enthusiasm to the various Kinette functions throughout the year.

Women's Institute 70th Anniversary Party

It was a lovely day and the United Church Hall was the setting for Minden Women's Institute's 70th Anniversary celebration. This was a noon luncheon at which guests from the ten branches of Victoria East and members and guests from our village enjoyed the meal. The tables looked attractive with the delicious food and vases holding rosebuds in gold and blue. W. I. grace was sung in unison and head table guests were Mrs. O. Carew, Pres. Victoria East, Mrs. R. Hopkins past Pres., Victoria East Mrs. R. Johnson, Pres. Victoria West Mrs. J. Junkin, 1st Vict. Pres. of Central Ontario Area, Mrs. A. Gilles, Sect'y Treas. Victoria East, Mrs. Lyman Cox, Minden Pres. Mrs. A. S. Kernohan, Minden Treas. Mrs. S. Ewing District Director, Minden. After the meal, Mrs. L. Cox and Mrs. O. Carew cut the anniversary cake and the former passed this around. While the tables were being cleared the ladies chatted or looked at the Tweedsmuir History Books or bazaar items. The M.C. Mrs. Sears called the ladies to order and the programme began with O

Canada, Ode, Mary Stewart Collect and Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Lyman Cox, our pres. then welcomed the ladies and introduced our District and Area Officers and mentioned that we had honoured Queen Elizabeth II on the occasion of her jubilee with portraits and flags. Several solos of period songs were given by Mrs. S. Ewing, accompanied by our pianist Mrs. P. Clarke. No programme is complete without some humour and Mrs. W. Locke then gave us our share with her portrait of a four year old 'brat'.

A brief history of this branch was given by Mrs. Sears who introduced past pres. Mrs. L. Dawson, Mrs. W. Moore, Mrs. W. Cox, Mrs. A. S. Kernohan and Mrs. Sears and Life Members Mrs. J. Graham, Mrs. F. Wright, Mrs. H. Welch, Mrs. W. Cox and Mrs. W. Moore, with all standing as mentioned. She read the minutes of March 1921 and Treasurer's report for 1921 and ended with her verse. Members of the first executive of this branch were introduced by Mrs. B. Burns - Mrs. Wm. Fielding (Thelma Ewing) Mrs. D. J. Hartle (Mary Cox) Mrs. Fred Burt (Rheta Brown) and members Mrs. Wm. Welch (Jean Taylor) Mrs. John Welch (Lola Prentice) and Mrs. Ed Noice (Bertha Hughes) some in traditional costumes.

Mrs. Cox then called on any of our guests to speak, and Area District and Branch presidents responded. A short sing song conducted by Mrs. Ewing followed and completed our programme. Mrs. C. Lazier graciously thanked all who had made this day so successful.

A brief business meeting followed. The minutes and reports were given and collections taken for Cards and Pennies for Friendship. Mrs. S. Ewing gave the report of District Annual at Norland, May 19th. It was decided to have our Fall Bus Trip Oct. 5th, destination not as yet set. The Programmes for the coming year were given out and a gift membership is to be sent to Mrs. S. Blears in appreciation of her work on these. Those wishing Secret Pals for the coming year drew one at this time. The next meeting will be at the Orange Hall Sept. 21st and 2 with Mrs. J. Hulbig in charge of the programme. A sincere welcome is extended to all ladies to join us at this time and share our fellowship.

About the Town

with Jeannie Sears

We are sure everyone welcomed the rain we had the last few days, but we wonder if it came soon enough to do much good.

Congratulations to Joan Hatkoski who won the Jackpot of $250 in 53 numbers called at Rotary Bingo last Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnson and Randy of Scarboro spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright.

Weedend guests with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Cox were Ron Cox and family of Peterborough.

Hint of the week-We found that our rose bushes had no bugs after we planted chives beside them.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sears and family of West Hill were Saturday guests with his parents Mr. and Mrs. M. Sears.

The County Council sent representatives to the County Fair Directors meeting on the 15th to discuss combined celebrations of the Queen's Jubilee.

Don't forget the Immunization Clinic for Polio and Tetanus at Minden Municipal Offices June 29th from 2:30 to 7:30 p.m. Seems everyone should have this as polio is going the rounds again.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore spent Sunday with the Alan Brydsons family at their cottage on Buckslide road.

The community sends good wishes to May and Fred Wright on the occasion of their 56th wedding Anniversary June 22nd.

Wedding bells have been ringing, with congratulations going to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fawcett (nee Barbara Payne) Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Graham (nee Jane Ann Danile) Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clark (nee Carolyn Dugan) and to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hughes.

Francis Smith of Detroit Michigan is enjoying a visit with his sister Mrs. Lorne Dawson.

Mrs. Ivan Harrison and Mrs. W. Casey report they enjoyed the W. I. Bus Trip to Kingston early this month.

All their friends send good wishes to these people in hospital-Isobel Eastman, Ivan Harrison and Mark Vasey at St. Josephs Peterborough, Vic Shaver at Toronto General, Mrs. Tom Hamilton and Wes Rivers at Ross Memorial and Louisa Loucks at the local one.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late H. W. Feuerstein, and Mrs. Orie Mintz who passed away since last week.

Guest with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright (His sister) is Malcolm Kent of Englehart and he will be visiting other relatives in the area as well.

Miss Maria Axelsson of Tystberga, Sweden is spending a month's holiday with Edna and Harold Morgan.

The School Fair Exhibit from Archie Stouffer Public School sponsored by Women's Institute and on display at Hyland Crest Auditorium had a fair crowd in to see this. There were four groups and prizes went as follows- Group 1-K and Grades 1 & 2-Terri Legge 2. Michael Carr 3. Laura Cross Group 2-Grades 3 & 4-1. Donna Lee Sisson, 2. Lori Ann O'Brien 3. Christine Warburton. Group 3-Grades 5 & 6-1. Wade Barry, 2. Tim Dufty, 3. Stanley Brown. Group 4-Grades 7 & 8-1. Shane Blakey, 2. Suzanne Carrell 3. Joanne Cox. The twelve winning entries will be on display at the Fair in August if you missed seeing the whole display. Judges were Isabel Harrison, Molly Locke and Cy Heal.

The best and sweetest things in life are things you cannot buy; The music of the birds at dawn, the rainbow in the sky. The dazzling magic of the stars, the miracle of light. The precious gifts of health and strenght, of hearing, speech and sight. The peace of mind that crowns a busy life of work well done, A faith in God that deepends as you face the setting sun. The boon of love, the joy of friendship as the years go by, You find the greatest blessings are the things you cannot buy.

A bad break in a water line turned into a refreshing break for these Tripp Construction workmen who enjoy a cool respite from last week's hot spell. The water line broke in front of the Old age security pension payments rise in July

OTTAWA—Increases in the Old Age Security pension, Guaranteed Income Supplement and Spouse's Allowance, effective in July, 1977, were announced last week by Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde.

Increases in Old Age Security pension and Guaranteed Income Supplement payments represent the fifteenth quarterly escalation based on the cost of living, as provided for in the Old Age Security Act.

The new monthly total at the single rate for persons receiving both the basic Old Age Security pension and maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement will be $250.19.

For a married couple, both pensioners, the combination of the basic pension and maximum supplement will provide a payment of $477.26 for the couple monthly.

The basic Old Age Security pension will rise in July to $147.05 from the present $143.46.

The Guaranteed Income Supplement is paid to pensioners whose income, apart from the Old Age Security pension, is limited. The amount of the supplement varies in relation to the amount of income.

The maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement for a single person, or a married person whose spouse is not a pensioner and is not receiving a Spouse's Allowance, will go up in July to $103.14 from its current $100.62. The maximum supplement for a married couple, both pensioners, will increase to $91.58 each from $89.35. Added to the basic pension, this will give each married pensioner $238.63 monthly, or a total of $477.26 for the couple. The Spouse's Allowance is paid to persons between 60 and 65 years of age who are married to Old Age Security pensioners and meet residence requirements. Entitlement to a Spouse's Allowance, and amount paid, is based on yearly income.

The maximum Spouse's Allowance is made up of an amount equivalent to the basic Old Age Security pension and the maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement at the married rate.

Conservation of electricity key concern

Educating consumers to conserve electricity is the central issue facing Ontario Hydro today, according to Hydro Chairman Robert Taylor.

In the utility's annual report which was released last week, Mr. Taylor said that the intensive program being conducted by Ontario Hydro and municipal electrical utilities is succeeding in achieving greater public awareness of the need for conservation.

'Regardless of future adjustments in the expansion of the provincial power system, the central issue is—and will continue to be—conservation,' the chairman said.

He explained in his report on behalf of Ontario Hydro's board of directors that a high priority has been placed on development of new equipment and appliance standards to improve efficiency in electrical consumption. In addition, programs that have been instituted to assist all types of customers — industrial, commercial farm and residential — in eliminating waste.

The chairman referred to Ontario Hydro's performance in 1976 as 'financially disappointing.'

Net income for 1976 was only $52.5 million, half of the forecast $100 million and this shortfall prompted a withdrawal from reserves of $35.1 million to meet Hydro's statutory debt retirement obligation of $87.6 million. No internal funds from revenues were available for system development expansion.

The Senior League

Senior Citizen's Week

The residents of Hyland Crest kicked off 'Senior Citizens Week' this week, with a BARBEQUE. However, with the rain, the barbeque was held indoors. On Monday evening the residents were thoroughly entertained by 'MUSIC 77', at the Archie Stouffer Public School. Music '77 featured amateur talent from the school plus the grade 8, Archie Stouffer Band.....

On Tuesday evening, the highlight of the WEEK took place, the OVER 70's DINNER. As of this writing over 170 guests will be joining the residents for this Dinner. Included in the special guests are residents of EXTENDICARE in Haliburton. The entertainment for the dinner will be supplied by FRED BALLARD, PEGGY NEVILLE, JOHN GILL AND LIL RAWLINS.....

On Wednesday afternoon the residents will be taking a BUS TRIP to Dorset's, LOOKOUT PARK, where they will meet residents of Bracebridge's PINES HOME. The two will then spend the afternoon sharing picnic lunches and singing songs.....

Then on Thursday of this very special week for our senior citizens, the Hyland Crest AUXILIARY will sponsor a garden TEA PARTY at the Home at 2 p.m. Let's hope the weather is great for the occasion.....

On Friday GRACE COBURN will visit the Home and lead the residents in an afternoon of sing-song of some old time favorites.....

Ontario Provincial Police divers were still searching late Tuesday for the body of John Gordon Turban, 53, of Weston, who is believed to have drowned in Gull Lake early Sunday afternoon. Turban had gone sailing about 10 a.m. Sunday and when he hadn't returned some four hours later his wife Rosemary notified neighbouring cottagers Don and Judy Noble, of Waterloo. According to Mrs. Noble her husband scanned the lake with his binoculars but couldn't find Mr. Turban's boat. Police said the boat had been found upside down in the lake a short distance north-east of Turban's cottage by Gull River cottager, Joseph Saulnier, of Bramalea. Mr. Saulnier towed the boat to his cottage and then notified police of his find. Following two hours of searching by the Nobels, Mrs. Nobel said she then notified Minden O.P.P. of Turban's disappearance. Ontario Provincial Police divers, from Minden were joined by a Lindsay O.P.P. diver on Monday and a Barrie O.P.P. diver on Tuesday, in a futile search of Gull Lake, at depths of almost 150 feet. Seen above as they prepared to resume diving late Monday are l-r: Roy Telford, Frank Wilson of Lindsay, Barry Connelly and Bob Pearson. Police said late Tuesday that dragging operations would begin Wednesday.

Golfer cries "foul"

Twenty-four year-old St. Catharines golfer Scott Allison was crying 'foul' instead of 'fore' last week after thieves made off with his $750 set of Ben Hogan clubs and Burke golf bag. Mr. Scott, had finished playing the PineStone course and set his clubs down.

When he returned for them later they were gone. After waiting a week for their return he reluctantly concluded their recovery would require police assistance and called Minden O.P.P. Investigation by Provincial Constable Al Bibby.

WATER CONSERVATION PERIOD

Village of Minden

By the authority vested in me under By-law 77-34, I hereby declare the months of June, July and August, 1977 as a Water Conservation Period in the Village of Minden for all consumers on the Municipal Waterworks System.

No watering of lawns or gardens, washing of vehicles or other such uses is permitted except before 7:00 o'clock in the morning and after 8:00 o'clock in the evening.

Maximum fine is $100.00.

This measure is taken to help guarantee an adequate supply of water to all residences for essential domestic purposes and to provide proper fire protection during this very dry season.

Your co-operation to help maintain these services will be appreciated.

Boat lights turned on too late to avoid crash

Police say charges are pending against a Haliburton Lake boater who turned his running lights on too late to avoid being struck by another boat around 2 a.m. last Saturday.

According to police James Crother Murray, 18, had run out of gas and was paddling his 15-foot boat after its 70 horsepower motor ran out of gas, but with the lights out.

With the approach of another boat, Murray quickly turned on his boat lights, but too late.

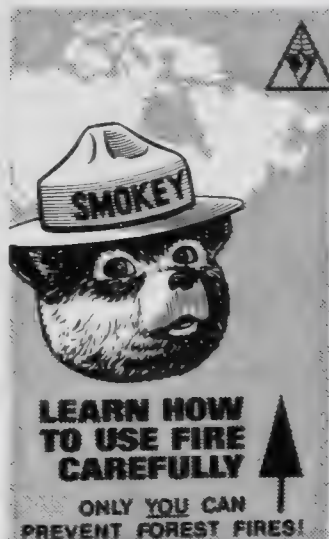

The second boat, powered by a 115 horsepower motor and driven by Dianne Marie Batchelor, 25, struck the stern area and motor of the Murray boat.

Both Murray and Miss Batchelor escaped uninjured. Damage totalled over $650. Investigation by Provincial Constable Dennis Potter.

Award contract for Highway 503

TORONTO—Transportation and Communications Minister James Snow has announced the award of a contract for work on Highway 503 in Bancroft district to Harnden and King Consturction Limited of Cobourg at a cost of $1,414,735.

The contract is for grading, Crainage, granular base and hot mix paving on Highway 503 from Highway 121 Kinnmount easterly to Irondale Bridge for 6 miles. Work on the project is scheduled to begin in June, 1977 with completion set for mid-summer, 1978.

Shooting reflexes and guns can both suffer from summertime rust

'But forgetfulness is a fault that afflicts us all at times and tomorrow can be a long time coming - as long as a week before the next hunting season. The ultimate retrieval of the pet musket can bring good news or bad news - the good reflected by no more than a coating of dust; the bad by a fresh coating of rust beneath the dust.

'There are two available options to prevent this. The first is to give your guns the thorough cleaning and rust protection they deserve immediately after last use. Then, store them safely in a location free of potential dampness or moisture. If you didn't do this then, by all means, do it now.

'The second option helps avoid rusting of your shooting reflexes as well as your guns. Keep the guns in use during the summer, providing appropriate maintenance along the way. For shotgunning, why not try one of the clay target sports. Skeet is ideal for open-choked upland game guns, while trap shooting is just right for tighter-bored waterfowling guns. If there are no formal clay target facilities within reasonable distance, pick up an inexpensive hand trap and a couple of cases of clay targets. All you need is a safe, open area and a friend with whom to alternate shooting and throwing.

'The same philosophy can apply to rifle shooting. A standard rifle range is best for serious shooting. If there's none nearby, look for an outdoors location that provides a safe backstop behind targets, clear visibility on both sides of the shooting lane, legally proscribed distance from occupied dwellings, and, of course, permission from the owner if the property is not yours.

'Plinking with an accurate rim fire rifle also offers excellent off-season rifle practice, with added benefits of less noise and low ammunition costs.

'Finally, if you plan to install a scope or new sights on your hunting rifle, do the job and the related sighting - in operation during the summer so that, when the new season starts you'll be ready to go and familiar with the new sights. 'The rewards for off-season shooting can be three-fold: continued maintenance of your guns, additional shooting equipment and better performance afield when hunting seasons reopen.'

Henry Davis' ABC's for sportsmen

In one of the last pieces he wrote for the Remington Arms people before retiring as Remington's public relations manager in July 1959, the late Henry P. Davis compiled a list of what he called ABC's for Sportsmen.

'There is much more to sportsmanship than the mere practice of to-the-letter obedience to the game laws,' Davis said. 'A man may never violate a game law or break a club rule and still not be a real sportsman, for he may be refraining from doing these things because he has to, not because he wants to. Real sportsmanship cannot be defined or bounded by rules.

'There are certain maxims, however,' continued Davis, 'that are worthy of constant remembrance, lest we carelessly or thoughtlessly stray from proper field behavior. They are not rules, just reminders. As they run the gamut of the alphabet, I call them ABC's for Sportsmen. They could just as well be called XYZ's, too. I think they're worth looking over.'

We think Henry Davis' ABC's for Sportsmen are still worth looking over eighteen years later; so we are repeating them here not only for a new generation of sportsmen, but as timeless reminders for us all.

Always practice safe gun handling.

Be considerate of the landowner. You are his guest.

Conduct yourself as a SPORTSMAN should.

Don't be a game hog.

Educate youth in the principles of sportsmanship.

Favor the fellow who is hunting with you.

Give wildlife a break. Work for its conservation.

Have the location of your hunting partner always in mind.

Influence others to hunt safely.

Join a sportsman's organization.

Keep that gun muzzle elevated.

Leave some game for seed stock.

Make sure of your target before you shoot.

Never leave a cripple to go to waste.

Obeys the game laws to the letter.

Put yourself in the other fellow's place. Treat him accordingly.

Quit harping about game shortages and do something about it.

Retrieve every piece of game you knock down.

Share your game bag with the farmer.

Take a boy, other than your own, hunting or fishing.

Unite your fellow sportsmen in a common effort to provide better hunting and fishing.

Value and protect your right to own and bear firearms.

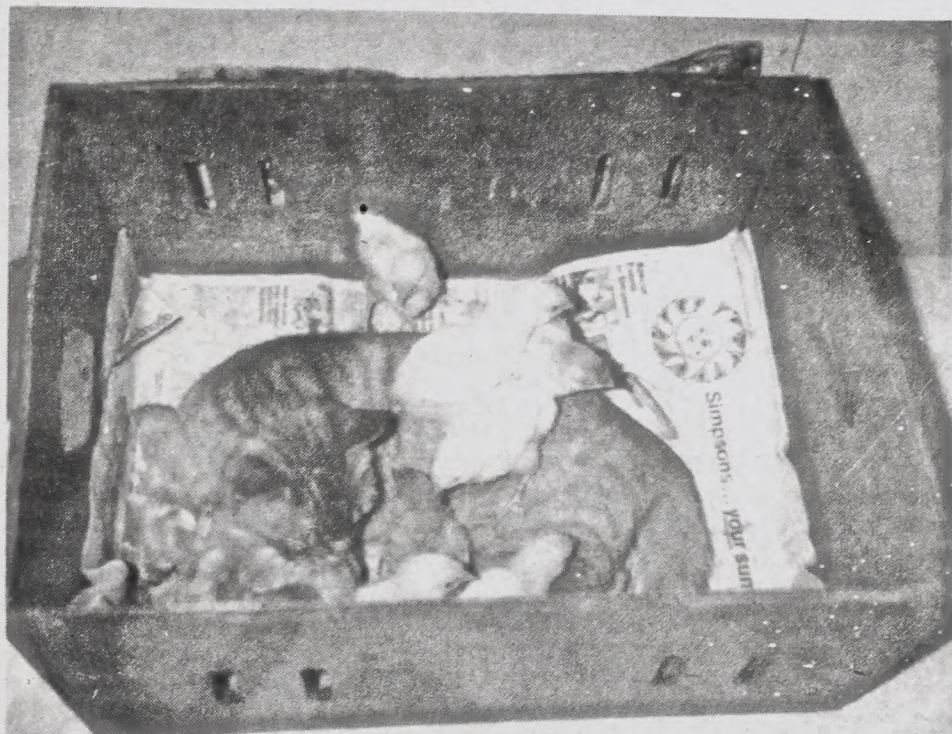

Work for all sound game management measures.

X may mark the spot if you mix gun powder and alcohol.

Young America's future field sport depends on You.

Zeal in game restoration activities will pay big dividends.

Cat's meow?

It's really the cat's meow. Or then again just maybe no one's gotten around to telling these chicks all about cats.

Seems this 5 year-old family pet has adopted a brood of baby chicks and won't let them out of her sight.

Even more unusual is the fact that Mrs. Mary Roberts, of R. R. 2 Minden, hatched these chicks in her electric frying pan. According to Mary, somewhere around 100 degrees F. is acceptable.

Mother cat, who had a litter of kittens just two weeks ago, took right over, says Mary and even chases dogs away if they dare venture near her brood.

But there are other equally unusual things going on at Mary's. Just last Monday morning Mary hatched a duckling, once again in her frying pan, and now, wouldn't you know, mother hen has taken over the maternal duties.

And then there's the one about the cottontail rabbits. Seems Marv got three rabbits last fall which quickly multiplied into 18 rabbits by this spring.

Marv sold all but five, which she nursed with an eyedropper. Unfortunately four of the little fellows didn't make it. However, the fifth survived but lost all his hair except for that powder-puff tail.

Mary quickly put him outside and he now sports a beautiful coat of hair.

One thing though, with all the turnabout, no one seems to have ruffled feathers, not even the family cat.

$4,300 damage in 3 crashes

Three single vehicle accidents resulted in an estimated $4,300 damage in the Minden area last week. A car-hydro pole collision last Wednesday resulted in some $1,000 damage to the 1966 car involved while the loss of the hydro pole was set at $500, one-half the value of the car.

Robert F. Johnson, 39, of R. R. 3 Bobcaygeon, was eastbound on Highway 503, just west of Tory Hill when he drove into the south ditch, striking the hydro pole. Johnson received cuts and bruises and has been charged with impaired driving by investigating officer, Provincial Constable Gary Chapman. A single vehicle accident late Friday evening caused some $2,000 damage to a 1961 car driven by Martin Austin, 19, of Minden. Austin was northbound on the Percy Lake Road when he slid on the gravel road, entered the west ditch and struck a tree. There were no injuries reported but the car was a write-off.

Investigation by Provincial Constable Dennis Potter.

A 22 year-old Scarborough man suffered minor injuries when his car hit a log Sunday afternoon in the Dorset area.

Peter F. Howley was southbound on County Road 12 when he lost control in the fresh gravel and entered the east ditch, striking the log. Investigation by Acting Corporal Constable Barry Connelly.

Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Douglas Casey are happy to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughters: Deborah Rose to Raymond Johnston & Audrey Christine to Nelson Johnston, sons of Mrs. Marion Johnston.

Marriage to take place on Saturday, June 25, 1977 at 6:30 p.m. at Minden United Church.

Dance to follow at Minden Community Centre at 8:30 p.m. Friends and relatives welcome. 746-2p

Trent-severn Waterway News

The dry weather which has prevailed since April continued this past week with a disturbing trend evident in precipitation records for Minden (Reservoir Area) and Lindsay (Kawartha Lakes Area). At Minden, the rainfall which was 53 per cent of normal in April, dropped further to 29 per cent in May, and 14 per cent during the first half of June. This has produced nearly drought conditions there and contributed heavily to the lowering lake levels.

At Lindsay precipitation was 94 per cent of normal in April, 71 per cent in May, but only 7 per cent in the first half of June. This means that several of the Kawartha Lakes are not being maintained at their normal maximum for navigation.

We wish to warn cottagers and boaters, that if these conditions persist, extremely low reservoir levels are likely to occur before the end of the summer. For this reason, we intend to allow the Kawartha Lake levels to recede toward their minima for navigation so that the full brunt of the problem is not felt only by cottagers in the Reservoir Lakes.

On Monday, June 13 the reservoirs contained 70 per cent of their maximum storage. This is less than the long term average for mid-June of about 87 per cent, though it is higher than the record low of 61 per cent set in 1931.

No change has been made to the amount of flow leaving the Kawarthas which has remained at a bare minimum of 500 to 600 cubic feet per second.

FROM THE LINDSAY AGRICULTURAL OFFICE

FEDERAL GASOLINE TAX REBATE

Farmers, like other businessmen who use gasoline in earning a living, are eligible to claim a 10-cent-per-gallon rebate on all gasoline purchased for business purposes after June 24, 1975.

In the case of farms, business use of gasoline would include operation of all gasoline-powered farm machinery and trucks and also cars on trips related directly to farm business.

The rebate applies only to gasoline and no claims may be made for diesel fuels, to which the tax does not apply.

Farmers should not send gasoline purchase receipts with their claim, but must keep them on file in case an audit is required.

Farmers may apply for the 10-cent rebate up to four years from the time the gasoline was purchased.

Claims forms are available at post offices.

A.R.D.A. PASTURE

The dry, hot weather we have had this spring has had adverse effects on most crops in Victoria and Haliburton Counties. The one crop which has probably suffered the most is our pastures.

This is especially true on the many pasture farms or ranches which are common on the lighter and shallower soils in the 2 counties. It is these ranches which are so important especially to the beef cow-calf producers, as this is the source of most of their summer pasture.

The adverse weather this spring has helped to show how important good pasture management can be. Management practices such as fertilizing, controlling weeds, planting improved pasture species such as birdsfoot trefoil, and if it is feasible, rotating the cattle on different fields, have helped many ranches withstand the dry weather.

A good example is the Victoria County Community Pasture at Glenarm. Over 950 head of cattle are being pastured on about 2200 acres of shallow soil on this ranch. With the exception of a few rocky areas, there is sufficient pasture at the moment, and the cattle are in good condition.

A good soaking rain is required right away to rejuvenate all the pastures in the Counties for them to carry the beef herds (and dairy as well) over the summer.
